Facts about GDIS

Fact

GDIS is a full-service agency that offers a variety of business and personal lines insurance products including malpractice, business owners, workers’ compensation, ERISA bonds, flood insurance, and much more.

Fact

GDIS offers insurance reviews where we review all of your policies to determine if there are any gaps/exposures in your coverages. We also can take a look at your policies to see if we can save you money. In the past, we have helped members save thousands of dollars.

Fact

GDIS can write the following lines of insurance for dental staff, family and friends: auto, home, umbrella, boat, recreational vehicles, life, disability, and Medicare Supplements.

Fact

The dentist does not have to enroll nor do all of the employees. The dentists alone can enroll. The dentists can also offer coverage to his or her employees without enrolling in the program or having a minimum number of employees participate.

Fact

The dentist does not have to subsidize the employee’s premiums if he/she has fewer than 50 employees. Employees can be billed individually and pay GDA Health and Welfare plan directly with no administrative burden on the dentist.

SUMMER OF CELEBRATION

It's September, and the kids are back in school, patients want to start scheduling dental visits now that travel is over and done, and staff has some more energy now that they had a few days off and time with family. We can relate to this after summer break.

This year was very special. Every summer, GDA family come together at Amelia Island and enjoy a few days filled with family fun, relaxation, fellowship, food, and a party. Somewhere in this busy agenda we manage to fit in quality CE in a casual environment and our business meetings. This year was no different. In fact, it was a “blockbuster.”

We had the highest annual convention attendance in the history of GDA. The exhibit hall was a sell-out, and more than 38 hours of CE were offered, including a concurrent symposium on the new frontier of digital dentistry. For the last few years, our efforts have been to increase attendance and participation. The committee and staff went beyond expectations to act on feedback from previous events and made changes to meet expectations. The results are obvious. Our annual convention is improving every year. More and more first-time attendees attend, and the trend seems to be continuing. The convention has now become a self-sustaining event that improves our balance sheet and provides funds for improvements every year.

Besides fun and family time, the convention raised almost $12,000 for the GDA Foundation and additional funds for GADPAC. These funds are vital to sustaining our lobbying efforts and supporting worthy social causes. The Saturday evening event was a Family Fun Night, followed by the “GDA lounge,” which seems to bring out more karaoke talent each year.

Besides fun, we also elected our new officers and honored those who have served well. After many years we had contested elections for two officer positions and they brought out the best GDA has to offer. Differing opinions and different leadership styles all centered around a common mission “help every member succeed.” Many congratulations to our Vice President Dr. Zack Powell and new Editor Dr. Jamie Mitchell. Having served with Zack and Jamie for years we can all be assured our future is in good hands.

Let’s all get together, support our leadership, and look forward to another successful year.

As I submit my final editorial, I wish to share one thought by John Ruskin, “The highest reward for man’s toil is not what he gets for it but what he becomes by it.”

Q: Does my malpractice insurance policy cover me in the event of a Medicaid audit?

It depends on your malpractice carrier and the specific terms of your coverage. After receiving a recent inquiry from a GDA member on this issue, Medical Protective (MedPro), the GDA’s exclusive dental liability coverage provider, advised that its policies provide Medicaid audit defense coverage up to $25,000. However, MedPro’s coverage does not extend to the payment of fines associated with a Medicaid audit, should any be imposed on the covered practice.

If you are not a MedPro policy holder and accept Medicaid, you should contact your liability carrier and confirm the terms of your coverage in the event you receive notice of a Medicaid audit. If you are a current MedPro policy holder or would like a quote for your practice, Georgia Dental Services (GDIS), the GDA’s very own full service, in-house insurance agency, will gladly assist with your inquiry. In addition to professional liability coverage, GDIS also offers health insurance, business and personal lines of insurance, workers’ compensation insurance, and Medicare supplements.

To obtain an online quote and learn more about GDIS’ insurance products, please visit: www.gdaplus.com/about/get-a-quote.

If you would prefer to speak with one of our in-house sales representatives, please call 770.395.0224, M–F, 8:30am–5pm EST.

Q: Do the Prescription Drug Monitoring Program (PDMP) requirements apply when I prescribe a patient Tylenol-3?

No, a prescriber’s requirement to check the PDMP, subject to certain exceptions, applies when the prescriber writes a script for Schedule II controlled substances or benzodiazepines. See O.C.G.A. § 16-13-63(a)(2). According to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency website, “products containing not more than 90 milligrams of codeine per dosage unit (‘Tylenol with Codeine’)” are considered Schedule III controlled substances. See www.deadiversion.usdoj.gov/schedules/.
Q: I heard there is a new continuing education (CE) requirement for dental licensure in Georgia that requires me to take a course on opioid prescribing.

(1) Is this requirement effective for the 2019 renewal cycle; and

(2) Am I required to take this course even though I don’t prescribe opioids or benzodiazepines in my practice and don’t have a DEA license?

(1): Yes, the 1 hour CE requirement on opioid prescribing applies for the 2019 renewal year, and all subsequent license renewal years. The applicable board rule states:

“Georgia Board of Dentistry Rule 150-3-.09 Continuing Education for Dentists: (3) Course Content: (d) Effective for the 2019 renewal year, one (1) hour of the minimum requirement shall include the impact of opioid abuse and/or the proper prescription writing and use of opioids in dental practice;”

The GDA currently offers several opportunities to meet this new requirement. To attend one of its live, in-person courses, please check the course schedule on the GDA website, which can be found here: gadental.org/ce.

The GDA also created a one-hour, online webinar for you to watch in the convenience of your home or office. To download the opioid webinar go to gadental.org/ce.

(2): Yes, this mandatory CE requirement applies to all Georgia licensed dentists, even those without DEA license numbers.

2019 IS A LICENSE RENEWAL YEAR
Visit gadental.org/ce for online and in-person courses that meet the new opioid prescribing continuing education requirement for dental license renewal in Georgia.
Is there anything my office can do if an insurance company sends the reimbursement check to the patient for dental treatment performed in my office?

An “assignment of benefits” issue is one of the most common problems we hear from GDA members, particularly in situations where the dentist may not be an in-network provider with the patient’s dental insurance plan. In most instances, a dentist will tell us that the patient has told her insurance company to send the reimbursement check to the practice, but the insurance company ignores the request and sends the check to the patient, who may or may not realize that the payment was intended for the dentist. The patient then deposits the check and spends the money, or the dentist’s billing team has to chase the patient until she brings it to the office. It is a frustrating situation to say the least, and puts the practice directly at odds with the patient.

Georgia already has a law on the books requiring an insurance company to adhere to a patient’s request to have the reimbursement check sent to the provider:

“§ 33-24-59.3. Payments sent directly to health care provider by insurer

(b) Any other provision of law to the contrary notwithstanding, if a covered person provides in writing to a health care provider, whether the health care provider is a preferred provider or not, that payment for health care services shall be made solely to the health care provider and be sent directly to the health care provider by the health care insurer, and the health care provider certifies to same upon filing a claim for the delivery of health care services, the health care insurer shall make payment solely to the health care provider and shall send said payment directly to the health care provider. This subsection shall not be construed to extend coverages or to require payment for services not otherwise covered.”

However, as with any law, there are caveats to the general interpretation of this statute. First, the statute requires that the patient’s request be provided to the healthcare provider “in writing,” and that the “health care provider certifies to same upon filing a claim for the delivery of health care services.” Accordingly, you may wish to verify if your current intake paperwork includes a written and legible assignment of benefits statement directing that all insurance reimbursement payments associated with a patient’s dental treatment be sent to your practice. Moreover, your staff should ensure that the patient signs it and includes the assignment of benefits statement with your claim submission packet. One possible way to help reduce the chances of a denial would be to get the patient to sign an assignment of benefits statement corresponding to each claim your office files on her behalf.

The second caveat is more of a “legal technicality” that insurance plans often use to circumvent Georgia’s law, which stems from the fact that certain types of health insurance plans are regulated by federal law (ERISA plans), while others are regulated by state law. While I will not get further into the weeds on how or why this distinction exists, one of the most important things to know about how to distinguish between ERISA plans and state law-regulated plans is whether the plan is “fully-insured” or “self-funded.” Fully-insured plans are regulated by state law, while self-funded plans are governed by federal law/ERISA.

“But how can my staff identify the insurance plans that are required to follow Georgia law?”

Currently, this can be a laborious and time-consuming process. During the GDA’s discussions with members of the Georgia Department of Insurance, we learned that the Department currently does not track this. When GDA staff receives calls from member dentists, we often advise them to ask the patient to contact her employer’s HR department (assuming this applies) and have the HR coordinator answer this question, since obtaining accurate information from an insurance company, especially for out-of-network providers, can be even more challenging.

Fortunately, one of the pieces of legislation passed by the GDA’s Government Affairs Team during the 2019 legislative session should make this verification process less burdensome for Georgia healthcare providers. Starting in the 2020 renewal cycle, all health insurance cards issued in Georgia must contain a statement that the patient’s insurance plan is “subject to regulation by the Georgia Insurance Commissioner” if the plan is fully-insured and thus regulated by state law. Accordingly, your staff should be able to more easily identify state regulated plans when the patient presents her insurance card at an appointment and report violations of Georgia’s insurance laws to the Georgia Department of Insurance. ☣

AAP, AAPD Update
Guidance for Sedation in Pediatric Dental Patients

HealthDay reports that the American Academy of Pediatrics, in conjunction with the American Academy of Pediatric Dentistry, has “updated its guidance for monitoring and managing pediatric dental patients during sedation.” The guidelines provide specific guidance for the level of sedation and “note that the practitioner using sedation must have facilities, personnel, and equipment available for managing emergency and rescue situations.” The guidelines were published online in Pediatrics.

Writing in the AAP News, Charles J. Coté, MD, lead author of the clinical report, states, “Updated from 2016, the guidance recommends that at least two individuals with specific training and credentials should be present with a pediatric patient undergoing deep sedation/general anesthesia for dental treatment in a dental facility or hospital/surgicenter.”

The Oral Health Topics on ADA.org provides information and links to a variety of resources on anesthesia and sedation for dental professionals. ADA Guidelines for the Use of Sedation and General Anesthesia by Dentists is recommended for patients who are adults. For children, the American Dental Association supports the use of the American Academy of Pediatrics/American Academy of Pediatric Dentistry Guidelines for Monitoring and Management of Pediatric Patients During and After Sedation for Diagnostic and Therapeutic Procedures.

Dental professionals can find additional information on the use of general anesthesia in the ADA Dental Drug Handbook: A Quick Reference.

Seeking Adjunct Professors

The Georgia Dental Association, along with the Dental College of Georgia and the Department of Public Health, have established an adjunct professorship program in public health clinics in Georgia, with a focus on rural areas. A GDA member dentist will serve as adjunct faculty for the dental school and provide clinical instruction to dental students who are on rotation. The initial pilot site will be in Albany, Georgia with an implementation date of January 2020.

The requirements are:

- The dentist must be willing to supervise and train two students for a consecutive time period with at least four working days each week.
- The dentist must become a Dental College of Georgia adjunct faculty member and complete compliance training (GDA will assist with this).
- The dentist must be an active Georgia-licensed dentist and maintain liability insurance.

For more information or to become the first GDA member to participate in the Adjunct Professor Program, please contact Emily at emily@gadental.org or 404.636.7553.

New EPA Standards

The United States Environmental Protection Agency (“EPA”) released the Final Rule entitled, Management Standards for Hazardous Waste Pharmaceuticals and Amendment to the P075 Listing for Nicotine, which went effect on August 21, 2019 and applies to dentists.

New standards will prohibit the disposal of hazardous waste pharmaceuticals down the drain.

Pharmaceuticals are defined by the EPA as “any drug or dietary supplement for use by humans or other animals; any electronic nicotine delivery system; or liquid nicotine packaged for retail sale for use in electronic nicotine delivery systems.” This includes dietary supplements, prescription drugs, over-the-counter drugs, homeopathic drugs, compounded drugs, investigational new drugs, pharmaceuticals remaining in non-empty containers, personal protective equipment contaminated by pharmaceuticals, and clean-up materials from spills of pharmaceuticals. This does not include dental amalgams or sharps.

Enforcement by the EPA for knowingly disposing of pharmaceuticals down the drain could lead to civil penalties for violations of environmental law and EPA regulations.

For more information, please contact the GDA's Director of Health Policy, Emily, at 404.636.7553 or emily@gadental.org.
Foundation Fundraising

The GDA Foundation for Oral Health held two fundraising events at the GDA Annual Convention and Expo in July at Amelia Island. The first was an art raffle for two mural-sized and one moderately-sized art pieces created by kickoff event keynote speaker and artist, Richard Hight. The second was a Duct Tape Challenge with the goal of taping Dr. Kumar Patel to a door to see if we could sell enough tape to get him to stick to it without falling off. We succeeded! With your help we raised over $11,000!

Surety Bonds Required for Dentists who are Durable Medical Equipment, Prosthetics, Orthotics, and Supplies (“DMEPOS”) Suppliers

Are you a Durable Medical Equipment, Prosthetics, Orthotics and Supplies (DMEPOS) provider that has enrolled using CMS Form 855S? If so, the U.S. Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) surety bond requirement applies to you. There are only about 1,800 dentists currently enrolled as DMEPOS providers.

Key Points

• CMS is requiring all dentists who are DMEPOS suppliers to obtain a $50,000 surety bond per office location.

• Letters from CMS were mailed to DMEPOS providers, including dentists, the week of June 3. The letter explains the reasoning CMS used to arrive at this requirement.

• All dentists who are enrolled in Medicare as DMEPOS suppliers will have to comply within 90 calendar days of receipt of notification from CMS.

• ADA has contacted CMS to voice our concerns and opposition to this requirement. However, CMS has not changed its decision.

• Please note that this will not affect most dentists. It will only affect dentists who have enrolled as DMEPOS suppliers. An oral sleep apnea appliance for Medicare beneficiaries is an example of a Medicare DMEPOS covered device.

• Dentists who believe they are entitled to the exception may provide documentation to CMS that they are prescribing the DMEPOS items they are supplying to Medicare beneficiaries as part of their “physician service,” and subject to other Medicare requirements regarding prescribing and filling DMEPOS. However, it is important to note that:
  » CMS has taken the position that the surety bond exception only extends to physicians who are both prescribing and filling the product in the course of their own “physician service.”
  » Medicare will not reimburse a dentist for supplying an oral sleep apnea device to a Medicare beneficiary unless the requirements of Local Coverage Determination (LCD) 33611 are met.
  » LCD 33611 includes several criteria, including a criterion that the device is prescribed by a “physician.” CMS has taken the position that in this context the term physician does not include a dentist.
  » An address to which all applicable documentation should be sent will be provided in the letter from CMS.
  » The documentation would need to clearly indicate that the dentist is prescribing DMEPOS in accordance with Medicare coverage determinations.

For questions concerning the CMS notice, you may contact the National Supplier Clearinghouse (NSC) at 803.735.1034 or the ADA Third Party Payer Concierge at 800.621.8099.

What’s the Scoop on Identity Theft?

By Dr. Kelly Jackson King, LegalShield/IDShield
Merriam-Webster defines fraud as “an act of deceiving or misrepresenting.” Identity theft is a type of fraud whereby the thief uses personally identifiable information to obtain goods, services, employment, commit a crime, or gain any type of benefit without revealing the thief’s real identity.

If you are like me, I used to think identity theft was all about someone stealing my credit card and racking up charges. My identity theft plan was simple. If I never had my wallet stolen, shredded my important documents before disposal, and didn’t shop online with retailers I did not recognize, I was ‘good’. As the world and technology have changed, I realized that my identity theft plan needed to change with it.

Even if you have never been a personal victim of identity theft, this type of fraud is important because it affects us all. In the 2018 True Cost of Fraud Report, LexisNexis notes that fraud continues to grow in retail, financial service companies, and lending services. Financial service companies and lenders are experiencing the most rapid growth in fraud. It is estimated that for every dollar lost to fraud, there is a loss of up to $3.05 in revenue for these companies. While you may not be personally responsible for repayment of fraudulent charges, in the end those losses are passed on to consumers as a whole, and we all end up paying the price.

When consumers become victims of identity theft there may also be a loss of time, increased stress, and loss of money. The time spent by victims to resolve identity theft issues eats away at that person’s personal, work, and family time. At its extreme, victims of identity theft have been accused and sentenced in crimes they did not commit or have lost out on employment and financial opportunities.

There are a multiple different types of identity theft. IDShield is a nationwide identity theft protection service, and in their April 2019 Investigators Insights Report they noted that in 2018 the most common types of fraud their investigators saw were new credit account, utilities, and new cell phone fraud. Less frequently are people stealing your wallet and using your old accounts. They are stealing your Personally Identifiable Information (PII) and opening up new accounts that you don’t know about.

One early sign that you may have been a victim of new credit account fraud is receiving a ‘denial of credit’ letter. When a thief tries to open a new credit account and there is incomplete, unverifiable or incorrect information the creditor is required by law to provide a notice of denial. If you receive a denial of credit letter for an account you did not attempt to open, do not take this as a sign that there was a simple error or that since it was denied your information is safe. What it means is that someone has your PII and will likely attempt again to open new credit. It is important to check your mail to make sure you are not receiving bills or statements for accounts you did not open. Another red herring is receiving a change of address verification from the USPS if you have not moved. Identity theft thieves want to hide their activity for as long as possible and if they can re-route your mail their theft will go undetected for longer. A late sign of ID theft is seeing hard inquiries or new unauthorized accounts on your credit report.

Utilities Fraud is when someone uses your name or PII to obtain water, gas, cable or phone services. Many utility companies use your name and SSN to open up utility services in your name. Often they do not inquire of the 3 credit bureaus before opening an account. This means credit alerts and freezes may not be effective in preventing this type of fraud.

Victims of utility and new cell phone fraud often find out their information was compromised and used when they receive collections letters or bills from companies where they are not customers. As much as traditional mail may seem antiquated it is important to open your mail and verify that you are not receiving bills, statements, or denial of credit letters that may be indicators of Identity theft. For utility companies, if you provide a bill from the utility company that you do receive services from and that bill coincides with the time of the fraud the issue may be resolved.

While your PII can still be obtained by gaining access to your physical documents, identification cards, or mail, by far the new and more efficient way to obtain your PII is through data breaches. Criminals are less likely to grab your bag or dumpster dive to retrieve your information but more likely to be sitting at a computer hacking into the information that is already stored in someone's data bank about you.

Many of us have received breach notifications from banks, health care providers, and credit card companies that offer temporary identity theft protection plans when their system was compromised. That is a warning sign that your PII may be at risk. The issue with this approach is that monitoring your information for 12–24 months is short sighted. If your PII is in the hands of a thief they are likely to use it over and over again for many years to come. Many plans offer monitoring with little to no restoration. This means that you become the victim twice when you have to navigate the steps needed to restore your identity on your own time and dime. The best approach is both proactive and long term.

LegalShield’s IDShield services are endorsed by the Georgia Dental Association. They provide comprehensive monitoring, restoration and licensed private investigators to help dental practices, staff and Dentists protect their identity. When you become knowledgeable about how to best protect your identity that can translate to the dental office staff becoming more knowledgeable about how to protect the identity of their patients.
The safest place for special needs* patients with dental issues? In an O.R., of course.

The Power of Pets
Health Benefits of Human-Animal Interactions
An estimated 68% of U.S. households have a pet. But who benefits from an animal? And which type of pet brings health benefits?

Over the past 10 years, NIH has partnered with the Mars Corporation’s WALTHAM Centre for Pet Nutrition to answer questions like these by funding research studies.

Scientists are looking at what the potential physical and mental health benefits are for different animals—from fish to guinea pigs to dogs and cats.

Possible Health Effects

Research on human-animal interactions is still relatively new. Some studies have shown positive health effects, but the results have been mixed.

Interacting with animals has been shown to decrease levels of cortisol (a stress-related hormone) and lower blood pressure. Other studies have found that animals can reduce loneliness, increase feelings of social support, and boost your mood.

The NIH/Mars Partnership is funding a range of studies focused on the relationships we have with animals. For example, researchers are looking into how animals might influence child development. They’re studying animal interactions with kids who have autism, attention deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD), and other conditions.

“There’s not one answer about how a pet can help somebody with a specific condition,” explains Dr. Layla Esposito, who oversees NIH’s Human-Animal Interaction Research Program. “Is your goal to increase physical activity? Then you might benefit from owning a dog. You have to walk a dog several times a day and you’re going to increase physical activity. If your goal is reducing stress, sometimes watching fish swim can result in a feeling of calmness. So there’s no one type fits all.”

NIH is funding large-scale surveys to find out the range of pets people live with and how their relationships with their pets relate to health.

“We’re trying to tap into the subjective quality of the relationship with the animal—that part of the bond that people feel with animals—and how that translates into some of the health benefits,” explains Dr. James Griffin, a child development expert at NIH.

Animals Helping People

Animals can serve as a source of comfort and support. Therapy dogs are especially good at this. They’re sometimes brought into hospitals or nursing homes to help reduce patients’ stress and anxiety.

“Dogs are very present. If someone is struggling with something, they know how to sit there and be loving,” says Dr. Ann Berger, a physician and researcher at the NIH Clinical Center in Bethesda, Maryland. “Their attention is focused on the person all the time.”

Berger works with people who have cancer and terminal illnesses. She teaches them about mindfulness to help decrease stress and manage pain.

“The foundations of mindfulness include attention, intention, compassion, and…”

Nothing compares to the joy of coming home to a loyal companion. The unconditional love of a pet can do more than keep you company. Pets may also decrease stress, improve heart health, and even help children with their emotional and social skills.
and awareness,” Berger says. “All of those things are things that animals bring to the table. People kind of have to learn it. Animals do this innately.”

Researchers are studying the safety of bringing animals into hospital settings because animals may expose people to more germs. A current study is looking at the safety of bringing dogs to visit children with cancer, Esposito says.

Scientists will be testing the children’s hands to see if there are dangerous levels of germs transferred from the dog after the visit.

Dogs may also aid in the classroom. One study found that dogs can help children with ADHD focus their attention. Researchers enrolled two groups of children diagnosed with ADHD into 12-week group therapy sessions.

The first group of kids read to a therapy dog once a week for 30 minutes. The second group read to puppets that looked like dogs.

Kids who read to the real animals showed better social skills and more sharing, cooperation, and volunteering. They also had fewer behavioral problems.

Another study found that children with autism spectrum disorder were calmer while playing with guinea pigs in the classroom. When the children spent 10 minutes in a supervised group playtime with guinea pigs, their anxiety levels dropped. The children also had better social interactions and were more engaged with their peers. The researchers suggest that the animals offered unconditional acceptance, making them a calm comfort to the children.

“Animals can become a way of building a bridge for those social interactions,” Griffin says. He adds that researchers are trying to better understand these effects and who they might help.

Animals may help you in other unexpected ways. A recent study showed that caring for fish helped teens with diabetes better manage their disease. Researchers had a group of teens with type 1 diabetes care for a pet fish twice a day by feeding and checking water levels. The caretaking routine also included changing the tank water each week. This was paired with the children reviewing their blood glucose (blood sugar) logs with parents.

Researchers tracked how consistently these teens checked their blood glucose. Compared with teens who weren't given a fish to care for, fish-keeping teens were more disciplined about checking their own blood glucose levels, which is essential for maintaining their health.

While pets may bring a wide range of health benefits, an animal may not work for everyone. Recent studies suggest that early exposure to pets may help protect young children from developing allergies and asthma. But for people who are allergic to certain animals, having pets in the home can do more harm than good.

...If your goal is reducing stress, sometimes watching fish swim can result in a feeling of calmness. So there's no one type fits all,” explains Dr. Layla Esposito, who oversees NIH’s Human-Animal Interaction Research Program.
Helping Each Other
Pets also bring new responsibilities. Knowing how to care for and feed an animal is part of owning a pet. NIH/Mars funds studies looking into the effects of human-animal interactions for both the pet and the person.

Remember that animals can feel stressed and fatigued, too. It’s important for kids to be able to recognize signs of stress in their pet and know when not to approach. Animal bites can cause serious harm.

“Dog bite prevention is certainly an issue parents need to consider, especially for young children who don’t always know the boundaries of what’s appropriate to do with a dog,” Esposito explains.

Researchers will continue to explore the many health effects of having a pet. “We’re trying to find out what’s working, what’s not working, and what’s safe—for both the humans and the animals,” Esposito says. ""

A Message from the Executive Director

Our association has always been strong because of our collective action and our solidarity, but over the last few years GDA has gained tremendous momentum and strength. As I reported to the House of Delegates in July, the first half of 2019 proved to be extremely strong for our association. We had many significant accomplishments that advanced the strategic plan. A few key achievements in the first six months of 2019 include:

- Membership is ahead of 2018 with 3,418 total members
- GDA had a successful 2019 legislative session including passing legislation to help dentists address problems with third-party insurance reimbursements
- A new public relations campaign, Healthy Mouth, Healthy Me! is in production for 2020
- The number of CE courses offered to members doubled
- Annual convention drew over 1,277 attendees, our largest ever
- An inaugural district leadership conference took place in April
- Your member-owned GDIS insurance agency grew at a record-breaking pace

Through the report that follows, we highlight many, though certainly not all, of the association’s accomplishments and activities. The achievements are a testament to the commitment and passion of our members who make and keep GDA strong.
Recruitment and retention efforts continue to focus on engaging member dentists, welcoming new dentists and members, and creating meaningful programs to help dentists succeed in their practice.

Membership Highlights
We met our strategic plan goal in 2018 by increasing full active members by 4%, and membership remains strong in 2019.

- Total 2019 membership is 3,418, representing 97% of the membership from 2018 (as of July 18, 2019).
- 89 new members joined GDA in 2019 to date.
- Market share is at 64.8% for total membership and 60.1% for active membership. It will continue to increase over the next several months as we run promotions for new members.

Several programs have been implemented as part of the Membership Committee’s initiatives to engage new members, including a new dentist event in June. Thirty-two new dentists attended the event, which received great feedback from those in attendance.

GDA is continuing to work with the Dental College of Georgia through monthly lunch and learns, our mentoring program and the Adjunct Faculty Program to help inform the students of the importance of organized dentistry to the profession.
For the third year in a row, GDA had a successful legislative session under the Gold Dome.

2019 Legislative Session Highlights

- GDA advocacy that addresses problems with the third-party insurance reimbursement process:
  - GDA introduced and passed legislation requiring health and dental insurance plans to identify plans that are regulated by state law to help enforce Georgia’s insurance laws, especially Prompt Pay and Assignment of Benefits.
  - Participation in Representative Lee Hawkins’ Study Committee on the Healthcare Provider Reimbursement Process and Reimbursement Rates.
  - Active engagement at the Georgia Department of Insurance Roundtable Meetings on the Healthcare Provider Insurance Reimbursement Process.
  - Creation of GDA task force on third-party reimbursement.

- Secured a 3% dental Medicaid fee increase for the most common restorative codes.

- Continued to educate Senate and House leadership about the administrative burdens of being a dental Medicaid provider in Georgia. A dental carve-out bill has been introduced and will be available for consideration in 2020.

- Introduced Senate and House Resolutions recognizing the 2018 GMOM in Augusta, as well as the GDA’s efforts to remove barriers to care for rural and underserved citizens in Georgia.

For a second consecutive year, GDA successfully negotiated for the removal of unfavorable language in a surprise/balanced bill that would have harmed dentists. (Bill ultimately did not pass.)

How Surprise Balance Billing Occurs

- Go to in-network hospital to receive care
- Bill for charges based on in-network rates
- Bill for in-network charges gets paid in full
- Receive another bill for extra money from an out-of-network provider

BACK YOUR PAC. Every Donation Can Make a Difference!

Our goal in 2019 is to increase GDA PAC contributions by 20%.

Make an online donation today at gadental.org/gadpac
Public relations and communications activities continue to keep all members informed, to shine a positive light on dentists and dentistry, and to encourage all Georgians to find a dentist and visit regularly.

Public Relations Highlights

Work began on a new statewide PR campaign to launch in early 2020.

- Healthy Mouth, Healthy Me! campaign to feature Georgians who have benefited from oral health visits, along with their dentists
- Stories will be shared via a statewide media tour, online ads and other assets used in the promotional campaign
- Nominations for patients and their dentists accepted through September at gadental.org/healthyme

Our social media presence continues to grow. Videos are becoming our sweet spot for engagement.

- Since January 2019, GDA gained 99 followers on Facebook for a total of 1,219
- Posted 59 times and received 1,323 engagements and 800 clicks on links provided in our posts
- Increased presence on Instagram and currently have 293 followers

Updates to GDA websites are in process for a more modern look and additional user features.

2019 statewide news releases distributed by GDA were picked up by 167 news outlets, reaching a potential audience of 8.3 million, as of June 2019

Increased website traffic by 8% in 2019.
In the first six months of 2019, GDA doubled the number of CE courses offered to members and increased class size by 60 percent. Total attendance at GDA CE courses rose from 160 participants at this time last year to 600. In addition, 280 people participated in CE webinars.

Education & Training Highlights

High-Demand Opioid Courses The Georgia Board of Dentistry created a new requirement that all licensed dentists must have one hour of CE on “the impact of opioid abuse and/or the proper prescription writing and use of opioids in dental practice.” Because of high demand for the course (the first three courses were sold out), three additional courses were added. To meet demand, GDA created a webinar hosted on the GDA website that meets dental board requirements. More than 280 members participated in the online course to date.

New Coronal Polishing Course In 2019 GDA created the first approved coronal polishing course that meets the new Georgia Board of Dentistry policy for dental assistants. The first course was in such demand that it sold out and additional courses were added. GDA has hosted six coronal polishing courses through July and added four additional instructors to expand the program. Additional courses will take place throughout the state this year.
GDA continues to work to align the association’s governance model to ensure a broader representation, greater member participation and a sustainable structure.

Governance Highlights

- In July 2018, bylaw revisions took effect to align the governance structure for the future and GDA President Dr. David Bradberry appointed members to a Task Force to Evaluate Bylaws/Governance Changes according to the House’s direction.
- A new District Leadership Conference and Presiding Officer Training took place in April to enhance leadership training opportunities.
- Developed committee job descriptions including desired skills with the goal of recruiting qualified, committed, and informed volunteers.
- A District Leadership Toolkit was developed to better equip volunteer leaders for success.
- The Leadership GDA Program continues to improve, placing its graduates in GDA leadership positions. Seven new Leadership GDA graduates were added to 2019–2020 Committees.
- Intentional inclusion efforts continue to embrace all Georgia dentists for broader, diverse demographic representation.

Align Governance Structure for the Future Current Phase (2019)

The Task Force to Evaluate Bylaws/Governance Changes launched in January and additional updates to the Policy Manual were approved by the HOD in July.
GDA remains actively involved in numerous organizations and state government agencies to support the practice of dentistry.

Data-Driven Health Policy Reports

- GDA created the data-driven health policy reports
- Workforce of dentists in Georgia
- Teledentistry statutes and regulations that could potentially affect Georgia
- Future of dentistry regarding mid-level providers
- How to get dental care to sectors of the population not covered by the current Medicaid system (e.g. adults with developmental disabilities)

Prescribe with Care Initiative

Through partnership, collaboration, and education, the GDA has established its “Prescribe with Care” initiative to allow dentists to be a part of the solution fighting the opioid crisis. Initiatives include:

- Education—Creating a one-hour continuing education course in multiple formats and educational resources to educate member dentists and the public.

- Collaboration—Collaborating with healthcare professionals, policy makers, and the public by serving on opioid task forces.

- Administrative Rule Making—Working with the Georgia Board of Dentistry to create a continuing education requirement on the prescribing of opioids.

Adjunct Professor Program

The Georgia Dental Association, along with the Dental College of Georgia and the Department of Public Health, are establishing an adjunct professorship program in public health clinics located throughout Georgia, with a focus on rural areas.

GDIS was the number one producer of Medical Protective Dental Policies in the U.S. in 2018.
GDA financial performance is strong, and the association is on track to finish 2019 above budgeted net income. The association is again expected to set aside capital and operating reserves that exceed the amount indicated in the strategic plan at the end of this year. In 2017–2018, $441K was set aside in reserves, exceeding strategic plan goals for reserves by 22.5%.

Why is Social Security important?

- Chances are you paid into Social Security during your lifetime as 62 million people received monthly Social Security benefits in 2017. Do you know what you’re paying for?

- Social Security typically replaces about 40% of an individual’s earned income. That percentage generally is less—about 27%—for those with a higher pre-retirement income.

- Lifetime benefits can be larger than you might expect: over $600,000 on average for a dual-income couple who turned 65 in 2015, and significantly more for high earners with longevity.

What do I need to know?

It’s your decision.

Do you need the money now or can you wait for an increased benefit?

Age 62

About 71% of today’s retirees start benefits at the earliest possible age, locking in a reduced benefit compared with benefits at full retirement age. Starting this early may be necessary if you’re in poor health or need the income. But with life expectancies now reaching into the 90s, delaying benefits can lead to a greater lifetime benefit for many retirees.

Age 70

For each year you delay benefits between FRA and age 70, Social Security can add 7%–8% to future benefits, plus the COLA adjustment (cost of living adjustment). That guaranteed annual return can make this alternative very attractive, provided you have longevity. Delaying benefits until age 70 can also provide more income just when you may need it to help cover healthcare or other expenses.

Break-even age

At some point, Social Security will impact your life. It should therefore play a significant role in your retirement income plan.

Family benefits

Spousal benefits

A lower-earning spouse may select the greater of his or her own benefits or up

1. Social Security Administration Website: ssa.gov.
to 50% of the higher-earning spouse’s full benefit. Spousal benefits can be reduced if the lower-earning spouse elects to take them before reaching FRA.

Survivor benefits
A spouse can receive reduced survivor benefits at age 60 (or age 50 if disabled). When that spouse reaches FRA, he or she can step up to the greater of full survivor benefits or his or her full benefits. Note that survivor benefits increase if the higher-earning spouse delays taking benefits.

Important limitations and rule changes

Restricted application
Restricted applications (collecting spousal benefits while letting your own retirement benefits grow) are only available to people born before January 2, 1954.

Earning income
If you work, but start receiving benefits before FRA, one dollar is deducted for each two dollars in earnings you make above the annual limit. In 2019, the limit is $17,640. In the year you reach your FRA, one dollar is deducted for every three dollars you earn over a different annual limit of $46,920 until the month you reach FRA.1

Taxable benefits
You may have to pay taxes on your benefits if you file a federal tax return as an individual and your total income is more than $25,000. If you file a joint return, you may have to pay taxes if you and your spouse have a total income that is more than $32,000.1

File and suspend
Starting May 1, 2016, the file and suspend feature was phased out for people born after April 30, 1950. ¶

WHAT SHOULD YOUR NEXT STEPS BE?
There are a number of sophisticated Social Security strategies you may want to explore. Consider taking the following steps:
• Retrieve a copy of your Social Security benefit statement from ssa.gov.
• Think about what other income sources you might have throughout retirement.
• Have a discussion with your loved ones about Be prepared to talk with your financial advisor about incorporating Social Security into your financial plan.

GDA Members Assist Man in Need of Kidney Transplant through Donated Dental Services Program

Will you see one patient through the Dental Lifeline Network • Georgia Donated Dental Services (DDS) program? The DDS program restores the oral health and often transforms the lives of the patients we serve like Mark, 55, who lives in Dekalb County.

Mark suffers from end-stage renal disease and undergoes dialysis treatment three times per week. Mark needs a kidney transplant but did not qualify for the transplant wait list until he received dental clearance and is infection-free for surgery. It had been nearly 30 years since he had been to a dentist and his dental health needed attention.

In addition, he suffered a stroke in 2009 that left him with mild memory loss and weakness on the left side of his body. He enjoys working out two times a week to help with strengthening his muscles and taking walks when he can.

Unfortunately, Mark was unable to afford the dental treatment he needed. Surviving on a small Social Security Disability benefit, he struggles to make ends meet. Though he was desperate for help with his teeth, it seemed he had nowhere to turn.

How DDS Helped
Thankfully, Fresenius Kidney Care referred Mark to the Donated Dental Services (DDS) program, and he was linked with two generous GDA member volunteers and received donated treatment that restored his dental health and allowed him to receive dental clearance for a kidney transplant.

→ Dr. Rodney Baier extracted two decayed teeth and donated four deep cleanings.

Dr. Baier commented on the ease of which he was able to serve Mark through the DDS program.

“For any dentist interested in serving others or volunteerism who finds it challenging to go to another facility to volunteer, DDS makes it very simple by doing all the patient selection and screening allowing the dentist to see these patients at their own office and when circumstances allow,” said Dr. Baier.

Georgia Donated Dental Services (DDS) is a program of Dental Lifeline Network in partnership with the Georgia Dental Association and ADA. DLN is a national humanitarian organization providing access to comprehensive dental care for people with disabilities or who are elderly or medically fragile and have no other way to get help. 317 appreciative patients in Georgia have received treatment from over 187 volunteers.

“I am so thankful and appreciative for Dr. B.,” said Mark. “I am blessed to receive this care. You are a life saver! Thank you!”

Serving the Interests of Georgia Dentists and Patients

GDA is continuously recognized as one of the strongest organizations under the Gold Dome because of the support of our members. In 2017, 2018, and 2019, GDA successfully:

✓ Passed legislation to help dentists identify insurance plans that are required to comply with Georgia’s prompt pay and assignment of benefits laws

✓ Worked with Rep. Lee Hawkins to create a House Study Committee on the healthcare provider reimbursement process in Georgia (includes dentists)

✓ Secured a 3% dental Medicaid fee increase for specific restorative codes

✓ Increased state funding to expand the number of available slots in the Rural Dental Student Loan Repayment Program

✓ Advocated to make rural dentists who treat Medicaid patients eligible for the state’s Malpractice Premium Assistance Program

✓ Passed legislation regulating virtual credit card reimbursements by insurance companies

✓ Secured an 11% dental Medicaid fee increase for specific preventative codes

✓ Secured state funding to support GDA’s Donated Dental Services Program, which provides free dental treatment to low-income adults

✓ Worked with the Georgia Board of Dentistry to create an opioid prescriber CE rule

Your donation to the Georgia Dental Association Political Action Committee helps us communicate our concerns to candidates for state office in Georgia, fight for the safety of your patients, and your profession.

Join GADPAC at one of the giving levels below and receive recognition for your support:

- GOLD DOME SOCIETY MEMBER
  - $500

- CAPITOL COLUMN SOCIETY MEMBER

Michael Beckerman, DMD has acquired the practice of Steve Woodall, DDS in Villa Rica, Georgia
This column highlights GDA members talking about their path to dentistry and the value they find in GDA membership. The month we hear from Northern District member Dr. Steven Wingfield, a general dentist who practices in Atlanta.

Meet Steven J. Wingfield, DMD
When did you become a member of the GDA?
I became a GDA member just as soon as I moved to Georgia in 2004.

Who introduced you to GDA?
The very first day of dental school in 1996, our Dean told us how important organized dentistry is. He told us about all the benefits of the ADA, and why it’s so important to our career and our livelihood. I signed up for ASDA that day, and I have been a member of the ADA ever since.

What is your most memorable GDA experience?
I have made so many connections because of the GDA. Dentists often feel they are alone out here—on our own island—and the GDA helps to overcome that feeling. The pinnacle of my time with GDA was when I did a lecture at the GDA annual meeting last year at Amelia Island. It was an amazing opportunity, and I loved sharing what I’ve learned in dental practice growth with my colleagues at the GDA.

Why is being part of a professional group important?
My Dean told me to get involved and stay involved in organized dentistry. There is nothing more important to our profession than the advocacy and comradery that the ADA offers.

What did you want to be when you were growing up?
I grew up in a house-hold of public servants. My mom was a teacher for 27 years and my dad was a fireman over 30 years. I wanted to be a police officer until my junior year in high school. Oddly, it was my dad who convinced me to consider a career in Medicine or Dentistry. I think he had seen too much of the hard things firefighters and policemen have to see every day, and wanted to spare me of that!

What was your first job?
My first job was actually a 911 Telecommunicator. I worked evenings and weekends as a 911 Operator throughout undergrad and dental school. I actually loved it! It taught me how to work well with others, work efficiently and effectively under pressure, and it really solidified my desire to help people.

Why did you decide to become a dentist?
I decided to become a dentist my senior year of high school. I spent time with my family physician and my family dentist. The dentist seemed to be happy and enjoy his job—he didn’t have to work late nights, weekends or holidays. I also loved watching him do smile makeovers—he was changing people’s lives in just a few hours!

What advice would you give to an aspiring dental student?
Spend a lot of time shadowing. Get a job in the evenings or weekends as a dental assistant and a front desk person at a dental office. Learn as much as you can before going to dental school. Everything you learn will make dental school just a bit easier.

What do you enjoy doing in your spare time?
I love to spend time with my friends and family. I love going to sporting events, enjoying new restaurants in Atlanta, and strolling through Piedmont Park. I am an avid traveler, and I am always planning my next trip. My philosophy in life is to just "enjoy the journey."

Without saying, “I am a dentist,” what would you say if someone asked what you do?
I would say that I am in sales. I sell dental health and pretty white smiles!
